Master of Accounting and Finance (MAF)

KPT/JPS (R2/344/7/0153) (A8814) 06/23

Professional accountants are increasingly being appointed to helm large corporations in a rapidly challenging and highly dynamic business environment in both the private and public sectors. With a clear mandate from government and industry regulators to enhance business performance, accountants have taken up key positions in the corporate world, expanding their expertise into other service industries such as in ICT, transportation and aviation and many other areas.

The HELP MAF aims to provide the theoretical framework and skills which accountants and financial managers need to cope with an increasingly complex and global accountancy environment. The programme provides an advanced study of accounting and financial management enabling accounting and finance graduates to extend their academic training to the frontiers of professional knowledge and also enabling professionally qualified accountants to take stock of, and enhance, what they have learnt in practice. Qualifying students with HELP MAF are acceptable for up to three (3) exemptions for the CPA Australia professional examinations; students are advised to confirm the status of this CPA exemption when they register for MAF and the CPA professional examination.

Course Structure

- Duration : 1 ½ years¹
Assessment mode : Open-book Exam (20%) + Closed Book Exam (10%) + Assignment I (30%) + Assignment II (40%) [assignments inclusive of presentation], with such variation approved by the Academic Board.

Master of Corporate Governance (MCG)

KPT/JPS (R2/345/7/0641) (A10103) 05/25

The main objective of HELP MCG is to provide students with comprehensive knowledge of the theories, principles and practice of Corporate Governance. It focuses on ethical issues in the conduct and regulation of business. Additionally, the structure of the programme enables students to enhance their risk management skills. The knowledge and expertise acquired from HELP MCG are crucial for students who participate in the dynamic management of both private and public organisations.

The recent financial crises that challenged many corporations and national economies underscore the importance of acquiring knowledge and expertise in developing a code of best practices in corporate governance and developing organisational policy and procedure. The crises not only raised questions on the conduct of the affected corporations but also impacted corporate and industry behaviour globally. Students with good knowledge of corporate governance would be able to develop a clear understanding of corporate structures, processes, policies, roles and responsibilities, crucial for the proper direction and control of businesses not only for their immediate but also greater stakeholders. Qualifying students with the MCG are acceptable for up to two (2) exemptions for the CPA Australia professional examinations; students are advised to confirm the status of this CPA exemption when they register for HELP MCG and the CPA professional examination.

Master of Entrepreneurship (MER)

Drawing on HELP University's own start-up and successful emergence as both a business and social enterprise, and expressing its core value of sharing success, the HELP MER was initiated to support the growth of dynamic entrepreneurship and ignite the entrepreneurial spirit in individuals to actualise their aspirations.

The programme emphasises theoretical rigour to help students develop a conceptual awareness of the nature of the enterprise. It facilitates the understanding of a wide range of managerial, marketing and financial skills within the entrepreneurial context using experiential and action learning. This pragmatic and holistic pedagogy supports the development of mindset based competencies for entrepreneurial foresight and actions. The programme material is gleaned from lessons and cases of successful entrepreneurship and the experience of iconic entrepreneurs. It is also based on the hard experience of HELP University as an entrepreneurial institution in the field of education. Students will have the opportunities to interact with SMEs to understand real-world challenges and exercise entrepreneurial skills acquired from the programme.

Master of Project Management (MPM)

KPT/JPS (R2/345/7/0523) (A10051) 11/24

Accredited by the Project Management Institute (PMI) Global Accreditation Center (GAC), USA
Accredited by the Chartered Management Institute, UK (CMI)

The first MPM from Southeast Asia awarded accreditation by the Project Management Institute (PMI) Global Accreditation Center (GAC) for Project Management Education Programmes and Chartered Management Institute (CMI). This programme aims to advance executives, engineers, lawyers, accountants, managers, consultants and business owners to be successful project managers with advance knowledge and skills of project management principles and practice, having the ability to lead multidisciplinary project teams and develop an effective agile solution in diverse technical and not-technical settings that incorporate IR4.0 and Sustainable Development Goals.

Students will not only be required to learn from academicians and experienced practitioners to be proficient in specialist areas such as managing scope, time, costs and risks, resolving conflicts and examining supply and value chain but also be competent over a broad spectrum of general management disciplines that include leadership, strategy and ethics, and investigative case studies. Such proficiency will endow individuals with the strength and confidence to thrive and adapt to future changes in the project management field, environment and society due to having a framework for developing skills and acquiring knowledge.

The competence to manage projects is increasingly in demand and essential in an economic and investment environment that challenges industry in both developing and developed nations. Success in project management will provide opportunities for advancement to senior management positions as well as arm individuals for greater success in management consultancy or other rewarding entrepreneurial ventures. The MPM enable graduates to function effectively and ethically in their professional, business and personal capacity, thus contributing to society and nation-building. Qualifying students with HELP MPM are granted substantial credit toward the experience requirement when they complete an application for any PMI certifications.

KPT/JPS (N/340/8/0735) (MQA/PA12958) 10/26

The Doctor of Philosophy (Business, Management & Entrepreneurship) is designed to prepare students for a career as an academic or researcher in the public and private sector. The research in the PhD programme is a supervised programme; providing an opportunity for students to conduct an in-depth investigation of specific research issue related to a business, management and entrepreneurship discipline which contributes to knowledge in that field of study.

Application : Can be made throughout the year and intake are open twice a year in January and July.

The application must be accompanied by a preliminary proposal of approximately 3,000 words for assessment on the degree of preparedness and the potential scholarship of the student. It also allows us to identify a suitable supervisor for the research. The preliminary proposal should include the title, an introduction of what the research is about, the purpose and questions that the research seeks to address. It should also include the significance of the study, an outline of the literature that you will be reviewing, a description of the research approach and the time frame for the study.

Course Structure

Intake : January and July

Duration : Full-time minimum of 3 years and maximum of 5 years
Part-time minimum of 4 years and maximum of 8 years
Per Year: 2 semesters

Assessment mode : Coursework, Individual and Group Presentation may form part of the assessment; with such variation as approved by the Academic Board.

Course Requirement : This is a research-based PhD programme. The candidate is required to conduct independent research under an academic supervisor/supervisory committee, complete the thesis and orally defend his/her thesis in a proposal defence and attend a viva voce.

Course Admission Criteria : A recognised Master's degree in business or relevant field or other qualification approved by the HELP University Senate.

International applicants are required to fulfil a minimum score of 6.0 for the International English Language Testing System (IELTS) or its equivalent. The validity of IELTS must be within 2 years from the date of admission.

Admission is subject to the approval of the research proposal and appointment of a suitably qualified supervisor to support the intended research area.

DEPARTMENT OF PSYCHOLOGY

Master of Clinical Psychology (MCP)

KPT/JPS (R2/311/7/0019) (A8077) 09/22

Clinical Psychology is an applied field of psychology that specializes in the understanding, assessment, diagnosis and treatment of psychological dysfunctions. Central to the practice of clinical psychology is the use of psychological testing and psychotherapy. Clinical psychologists work together with other mental health professionals to promote psychological health, as well as prevent and relieve psychological problems.

The Master of Clinical Psychology programme is a 66-credit hour professional course offered by HELP University through the Faculty of Behavioural Science.

Course Structure

Intake : July and January

Duration : Approximately 2 to 2½ years

Assessment mode : Coursework, practical training, and research

Course Requirement : 23 subjects [inclusive of coursework (assignments and exams), practical training, and research project] are to be completed on a modular basis + passing a series of Clinical Competency Evaluation tasks.

Course Admission Criteria : A Bachelor's degree in Psychology with Second Class Honours (Upper Division) and/or at least a CGPA of 3.00 (on a 4.0 scale), or its equivalent (e.g. a Graduate Diploma in Psychology) and

- A high standard of written and oral communication skills (in English)
- Ability and willingness to sustain high workloads
- Capacity to relate to a wide range of people from a different age, gender, ethnic-racial, cultural, socioeconomic and vocational backgrounds
- Experience in clinically related fields is an advantage, but not mandatory.

After reviewing each applicant's qualifications, applicants will be notified if they have been shortlisted for a personal and/or group interview with the Selection Committee. After the interview session(s), the Selection Committee will then render a final decision to the applicant's acceptance into the MCP program. Please note that the interview serves as the most important entry requirement in determining the goodness-of-fit between the applicants and this programme. Applicants with strong academic qualification may still be rejected if they fail the interview session.

International applicants and applicants whose undergraduate degree's medium of instruction was not in English are required to fulfil a minimum score of 6.0 for the International English Language Testing System (IELTS) or its equivalent.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

Master of Education (Teaching and Learning) (MEDTL)

KPT/JPS (N/1417/0069) (MQA/PA8168) 04/22

The HELP MED TL first offered in 2017, aspires to enhance professional competence, students' knowledge and their career prospects in the discipline, based on informed practices and the broader views of education. The HELP MED TL programme also aims to equip professionals with skills that make teaching and learning efficacious and interesting.

As education is a multi-faceted discipline of study with a long historical development that cuts across cultures and civilisations in the local setting, the informed teacher whose practice when culturally, socially and developmentally appropriate, is considered academically and professionally progressive at its best. Each has its own set of philosophy and values, literary and literacy scholarships, policies and regulations, systems and practices. Thus, the HELP MED TL student is a researcher and a leader of education in process, engaged in acquiring an understanding of the core knowledge of pedagogy that encompasses history, philosophy, sociology, psychology, economics and politics. Furthermore, the inclusion of technology across these scholastic pursuits will prepare the students for the changes in the new millennium.
